BLOWN UP IN SIGHT OF CROWDED LINER

CREW OF EIGHT HUNDRED ARE RESCUED

WRECKED REMAINS DECORATE IRISH COAST

(By International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The British dreadnaught Audacious, one of the newest and most powerful ships of the English navy, was sunk off the coast of Ireland, presumably by a mine. Though the English censor prevented news of this disaster being cabled, the International News Service received information concerning it by mail and today it received a photograph sent by its London bureau that showed the Audacious half submerged. The photograph also shows the port deck of the dreadnaught crowded with sailors, while about her were several small boats from the liner Olympic and two torpedo boats called to aid in the rescue work.

The picture of the stricken dreadnaught shows her listing to starboard with water almost to her forward deck and stern high in air. The vessel apparently had a hole torn in her starboard side. NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—After a career of less than two years, the Audacious, third in tonnage and armament of his majesty's warships, was laid at the bottom of the ocean off the north coast of Ireland. The vessel was hit by a torpedo or mine October 27th. Most of the crew of 800 were rescued by the steamship Olympic. Passengers of the Olympic saw the battleship sink. Just before she sank an explosion occurred, supposed to be caused by shells. A sailor on the cruiser Liverpool, in responding to the call for aid, was killed.

(By International News Service.)
VIENNA, Nov. 14.—Official announcement was made today that the Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Augusta was sunk off Tsing Tao after her ammunition was exhausted. She was sunk by her own crew and not by a Japanese shell.

(By International News Service.)
PETROGRAD, Nov. 14.—Having crushed the Austrian army in Galicia, Russian infantry and cavalry are sweeping rapidly westward to storm Cracow, the gateway to Silesia and Berlin, according to reports from Lemberg today. Tarnow was captured by the troops of General Russek, and Russian cossacks swept beyond that city and seized the railroad.

(By International News Service.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 14.—The following official Turkish announcement was issued today:
"Turkish troops yesterday occupied all Russian block houses after a surprise attack on the frontier of Trobizond. The Ottoman forces advanced three hours' march into Russian territory in the direction of Batoun and captured the enemy's barracks at Kusco."

FIREBUG WILL BE SENTENCED IN THE LOCAL DISTRICT COURT AT 5:15 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON

"It is better for one man to serve his time than for a hundred to go to prison."—Boris Thomason.

Boris Thomason, the I. W. W. firebug, will be brought into the district court this afternoon at 5:15 for the purpose of hearing the sentence Judge Averill will deem commensurate with the enormity of his offense. Thomason is kept in Goldfield to prevent communicating with the other alleged conspirators and will be brought over by the sheriff in time to appear.

Chief of Police Evans went to Goldfield last night and called at the county jail to have a further talk with the prisoner. He found Thomason in a frame of mind that convinced the officer that the prisoner considered himself a martyr for the cause of destruction. He was not averse to talking, but frequently rambled off on subjects not pertinent to the one in hand and was inclined to dwell on Socialistic doctrines. One of his favorite expressions is "Life is a disease. Sleep is a remedy. Death a cure." When the conversation turned on the fire Thomason remarked that "if there had been a better water pressure or dynamite had been used earlier the poor people would not have been deprived of their homes."

He manifested no regrets for the losses incurred and discussed the fire with as little interest as though he were analyzing a problem not involving the personal equation. He said he learned the use of phosphorus while studying chemistry.

At another time, as he lounged back in a chair, he said: "It is better for one man to serve his time than for a hundred to go to prison." He did not say this reflection had anything to do with his own case, but the inference was plainly accepted by the chief of police.

It is difficult to trace the history of the prisoner, as he has been in this country only for a period of five years, coming from Russia, where he has three married sisters. According to one report Thomason had a brother die in a German prison while undergoing sentence for anarchy. This has not been corroborated. By trade Thomason is a cement worker and finisher and last was employed on the Bank building in Stockton, where he was suspected of setting fire to haystacks during last summer's riots in that quarter.

In appearance Thomason is not impressive. He is slouchy and looks like a typical tramp. He is five feet ten and one-half inches high, has chestnut hair and bluish gray eyes. He dresses in a loose, ill-fitting coat, cap and overalls. One leg was broken and badly set, so he walks with a slight limp, and while standing crooks the leg into bowshape. McQueen and Russell were arraigned in the justice court this morning at 11 o'clock on the charge of complicity in the burning of the Nevada theater.

KERAK TEMPLE WITH ARAB PATROL AND MUSICAL CORPS ARE GUESTS OF MASONIC ORDER OF TONOPAH

To the shrieking of fife, blare of trumpets and the rat-a-plan of drums the nobles of Kerak Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, took Tonopah by storm this morning and received a welcome in full accord with the dignity of their visit. A delegation consisting of the twenty-one nobles resident in Tonopah who are affiliated with temples scattered over the nation gathered at the railroad station on arrival of the Goldfield train and took the fez wearers in tow. There was a hearty reception on the platform and then under direction of H. E. Gosse, acting as drum major, the band fell into line and headed up Main street.

The Arab patrol was brilliant relief for the dullness of the surrounding landscape and the Zouave costumes of blue jackets and red balloon trousers topped off by the red fez won the admiration of the ladies, who could scarcely refrain from dropping into a two-step as the musicians struck up "It's a Long Way from Tipperary."

At the corner of Brougher avenue a halt was called and several selections played. Then the march for Masonic hall was taken up and the boys had a chance to get acquainted with their local entertainers. Masonic hall was the social center during the day and the Mizpah hotel was converted into a reception hall, where everybody had a chance to meet and greet the visitors.

Included in the list are Potentate S. C. Dinsmore, Chief Rabbah R. H. Parker, Assistant Rabbah S. R. Tipsett, Recorder F. D. King, Inner Guard J. W. Blum, A. W. Preston, H. J. Gosse, George Nease, A. C. Frohlich, H. F. Golding, C. H. Gorman, Rudolph Herz, George Bennett, Dr. G. C. Steinmiller, Sidney Foster, F. B. Corie, Walter Whiteley, James Gardiner, J. D. Oliver, J. E. Threlkel, A. W. Keddie, Dr. C. W. West, George W. Robinson, I. H. Kent, J. M. Fulton, William Carter and Edward Brown.

The exercises will be conducted this evening at Miners' Exchange hall, which has been beautifully decorated for the occasion. After the novices are borne across the burning sands and their thirst is properly quenched with zem zem they will be taken to Odd Fellows' hall, where a banquet will be spread under direction of Noble Aleck Dewar.

There will be no evening service.

A diverse attempt at offensive movements by the enemy in the region east and southeast of Ypres has been arrested. In the environs of Bassechoote we made progress amounting to one kilometer toward the east. Between the canal at LaBassee and Arras our troops made some minor progress. In the region of Lassigny and in that of Aisne as far as Berry-au-Bac the Germans attacked without success. In Argonne the conflict was very sharp. The enemy vainly attempted to recapture Four-de-Paris and St. Hubert. Around Verdun numerous partial offensive movements by the enemy were checked by the fire of our artillery before the infantry was able to advance. In the Woivre region and Lorraine, where bad weather continues, there is nothing to report."
